NEW QUESTION: 1

Universal Containers sells their subscription products only in whole months. The Users at Universal Containers are sometimes entering values into Start Date and End Date and leaving Subscription Term blank. They are finding that subscription pricing is not working as they would expect because the dates they are choosing do not equate to exact months.

This leads to pricing that may be a few cents or even a few dollars off. The Admin would like to find a solution that does not require forcing the users to use Subscription Term.

What should be done so that the pricing is rounded to the expected value?

- A. In the package settings, set Subscription Prorate Precision to Monthly.
- B. Create a Price Rule which rounds the Prorate Multiplier to the nearest whole value.
- C. Create a Price Rule that takes the user-entered date and calculates a rounded Term.
- D. On the Quote object, set the Subscription Prorate Precision field to Monthly.
