NEW QUESTION: 1

A company has a Windows Server 2008 R2 Hyper-V server environment. The environment is managed by using Microsoft Machine Manager (VMM) 2008 R2.

An existing virtual machine (VM) named VM04 must be cloned. You need to clone VM04 to VM03.

System Center Virtual to a new VM, named VM03, on the same host. The VM must be stored on a local disk.

How should you build a set of PowerShell commands to achieve this goal? (To answer, drag the appropriate phrase from the list of answer chores to the correct location or locations in the answer area.)

Select and Place:

Answer:

(Question is open to discussion)

Answer changed 12/06/2012 FROM Get-VMMServer, Get-VM, VM04, Set-VM, VM03 TO Get-VMMServer, Get-VM, VM04, Get-VMHost, VM03

Windows commands Get-VMMServer (Windows cmd)

Connecting to the Virtual Machine Manager Server Applies To: Virtual Machine Manager 2008, Virtual Machine Manager 2008 R2, Virtual Machine Manager 2008 R2 SP1 You can display Help about System Center Virtual Machine Manager (VMM) cmdlets at any time in the Windows PowerShell - Virtual Machine Manager command shell. However, you can use the VMM cmdlets only after you connect to a VMM server. Connecting to a VMM server retrieves the server object from the VMM database and gives you access to all the other objects in the database. You retain access to the objects in the database until you close the server connection, which you can do by closing the VMM command shell.

To connect to the Virtual Machine Manager server

Type the following command, and then review the output. Replace the placeholders with your own server and domain names:

Get-VMMServer -Computername

"&lt;YourVMMServerName&gt;. &lt;YourDomainName&gt;.com"

When the command has successfully completed, the server object is returned. The command shell displays information about the properties of the VMM server object. And, you are connected to the VMM database that is provided by the VMM server. If a command does not work in the command shell, run the command to connect to the VMM server again. If you encounter problems, open the Services tool in Administrative Tools, and then restart the VMM service. Or, restart the service in the command shell. For information about how to restart a service in the command shell, type Get-Help Restart-Service -detailed. If you are working on the server on which VMM is installed, you can substitute "localhost" for the fully qualified domain name (FQDN). You cannot do this if you are accessing the server remotely. To connect to Virtual Machine Manager if it is installed on the local host Type the following command, and then review its output: Get-VMMServer -Computername localhost <http://technet.microsoft.com/en-us/library/cc764276.aspx> Virtual Machines (Windows cmd)

Set-Vm

Change the configuration of a VM

Set-VM -VM (Get-VM -Name "Win XP SP1") -Name "Win XP SP2" -GuestId "winXPProGuest"

-Description "My updatedWin XP virtual machine."

The Set-VM cmdlet configures a virtual machine.

Examples

Example 1

Configures virtual machine TestVM to shut down when the Hyper-V host shuts down.

PS C:&gt; Set-VM -Name TestVM -AutomaticStopAction Shutdown

Example 2

Stops virtual machine TestVM, sets it to use dynamic memory, sets its maximum amount of memory to 2GB, sets it to use 2 virtual processors, and starts it.

PS C:\> Stop-VM -Name TestVM -Passthru | Set-VM
-ProcessorCount 2 -DynamicMemory -
MemoryMaximumBytes 2GB -Passthru | Start-VM
Provision VM (Windows cmd)

VI PowerScripter

To create a new VM (Windows cmd)

$esxhost = Get-VMHost "ESXHost01 .mydomain.com"
```

New-VM -Name XPVM -VMHost $esxhost -DiskMB 4000 -MemoryMB 256

Creates a new virtual machine.

Examples

Example 1

Creates a new virtual machine named new 1 that has 512MB of memory.

PS C:\> New-VM -Name "new 1" -MemoryStartupBytes 512MB

Example 2

Creates a virtual machine named new 2 that has 1GB of memory and that is connected to a new 40GB

VHDX file.

PS C:\> New-VM -Name "new 2" -MemoryStartupBytes 1GB
-NewVHDPATH d:\vhd\base.vhdx

Example 3

Creates a virtual machine named new 3 that has 1GB of memory and is connected to an existing VHDX file.

PS C:\> New-VM -Name "new 3" -MemoryStartupBytes 1GB
-VHDPATH d:\vhd\BaseImage.vhdx

To Remove a VM:

```
Remove-VM ( Get-VM "myVM" ) -DeleteFromDisk

Templates (Windows cmd)

$template = Get-Template -Name Templ* -Location (Get-Datacenter DC)

```
Remove-Template -

Template $template
```

New-Template -VM ( Get-VM XPVM ) -Name Template01 -Location
(Get-Datacenter DC)

```
Set-Template -Template $template -ToVM

convert Template to VM
```

Guest Customization Specification $osspec =

Get-OSCustomizationSpec WinXP

reads Guest Customization Specification object

New-VM -Name MyVM2 -Template Template01 -VMHost ESX01

-OSCustomizationSpec $osspec

other OS Customization CmdLets: New-OSCustomizationSpec

Set-OSCustomizationSpec

NEW QUESTION: 2

Evaluate the following SQL statements in the given order:
DROP TABLE dept;
CREATE TABLE dept (deptno NUMBER(3) PRIMARY KEY, deptname VARCHAR2(10));
DROP TABLE dept;
FLASHBACK TABLE dept TO BEFORE DROP;
Which statement is true regarding the above FLASHBACK operation?

- A. It recovers only the second DEPT table.
- B. It recovers only the first DEPT table.
- C. It does not recover any of the tables because FLASHBACK is not possible in this case.
- D. It recovers both the tables but the names would be changed to the ones assigned in the RECYCLEBIN.

Answer: A

NEW QUESTION: 3

To facilitate maximum air exchange, the nurse should position the client in:

- A. Orthopneic
- B. Prone
- C. High Fowler
- D. Flat-supine

Answer: A

Explanation:

(A) The high Fowler position does increase air exchange, but not to the extent of orthopneic position. (B) The orthopneic position is a sitting position that allows maximum lung expansion. (C) The prone position places pressure on diaphragm and does not promote maximum air exchange. (D) The flat-supine position places pressure on diaphragm by abdominal organs and does not promote maximum air exchange.
