NEW QUESTION: 1
Your company is planning to migrate to Microsoft Exchange Online. The company employs 1,000 people, each with a mailbox currently located on Exchange 2010 on-premises. You estimate that it will take a minimum of four weeks to migrate all mailboxes from on- premises Exchange to Exchange Online.
The company has the following migration requirements:
During the migration, do not change the existing Microsoft Outlook profiles and .ost files used by the employees.

Ensure that email messages sent between on-premises mailboxes and online mailboxes during the migration are secure.
Do not send email messages between on-premises mailboxes and online mailboxes over the Internet in plain text.
You need to select the migration strategy that meets the requirements.
Which migration strategy should you use?
A. Remote move migration only
B. Cutover migration only
C. Staged migration only
D. IMAP migration only
Answer: A
Explanation:
In this question, we are migrating the mailboxes over a period of time (minimum of four weeks). During the migration period, we will have a hybrid deployment where the Exchange environment exists both on-premise and online.
To meet the requirements of the question, we can use a remote move migration.
A remote move migration is used to migrate on-premises Exchange mailboxes to Exchange Online in an Exchange hybrid deployment. You must have an Exchange hybrid deployment to use a remote move migration.
With a hybrid deployment, you get the following capabilities:
Even if you plan to permanently move your on-premises email organization to Exchange
Online and Office 365 over a longer period of time, you can take advantage of these hybrid deployment features during the transition.

NEW QUESTION: 2
An auditor is creating an audit program in which the objective is to establish the adequacy of personal data privacy controls in a payroll process. Which of the following would be MOST important to include?
A. User access provisioning
B. Audit logging of administrative user activity
C. Segregation of duties controls
D. Approval of data changes
Answer: B

NEW QUESTION: 3
You are configuring network connections to your database instance.
What does each network group represent?
A. It is used to define network connections to the Pluggable Databases (PDBs) within a Container Database.
B. It is used to allow unrestricted communication among some of your DBaaS instances by using a set of defined policies and access rules.

C. It is used to define load balancing and failover configurations between RAC database instances.

D. It is used to manage the connections between your external application servers (application servers that you currently use in your business environment) and your DBaaS instances.

Answer: B

Explanation:

Explanation/Reference:

Network groups provide a method for VMs to be grouped together for communications and firewall rules.

You can define network groups to allow VMs within a group to communicate with each other, while also preventing those VMs from communicating outside the group.

Note:

Access rule. Access rules define the permitted paths of communication for VMs that are within a network group. You can define an access rule to enable a specific path of communication between two network groups, or between a network group and a specified list of IP addresses.
