NEW QUESTION: 1

You have created several preemptible Linux virtual machine instances using Google Compute Engine. You want to properly shut down your application before the virtual machines are preempted. What should you do?

- A. Create a shutdown script, registered as a xinetd service in Linux, and use the gcloud compute instances add-metadata command to specify the service URL as the value for a new metadata entry with the key shutdown-script-url
- B. Create a shutdown script registered as a xinetd service in Linux and configure a Stackdriver endpoint check to call the service.
- C. Create a shutdown script named k99.shutdown in the /etc/rc.6.d/ directory.
- D. Create a shutdown script and use it as the value for a new metadata entry with the key shutdown-script in the Cloud Platform Console when you create the new virtual machine instance.

Answer: D

Explanation:

Explanation

NEW QUESTION: 2

You manage an application running on Azure web apps in a Standard tier. The application uses a substantial amount of large image files and is used by people around the world. Users from Europe report that the load time of the site is slow.

You need to implement a solution by using Azure services. Which two actions will achieve the goal? Each correct answer presents a complete solution.

- A. Configure Azure Web Site auto-scaling to increase instances at high load.
- B. Configure Azure blob storage with a custom domain.
- C. Configure Azure CDN to cache site images and content stored in Azure blob storage.
- D. Configure Azure CDN to cache all responses from the application web endpoint.

Answer: A,C

Explanation:

Explanation:

C: Autoscale is a built-in feature of Cloud Services, Mobile Services, Virtual Machines, and Websites that helps applications perform their best when demand changes. Of course, performance means different things for different applications. Some apps are CPU-bound, others memory-bound. For example, you could have a web app that handles millions of requests during the day and none at night. Autoscale can scale your service by any of these-or by a custom metric you define.

D: Blobs that benefit the most from Azure CDN caching are those that are accessed frequently during their time-to-live (TTL) period. A blob stays in the cache for the TTL period and then is refreshed by the blob service after that time is elapsed. Then the process repeats.

NEW QUESTION: 3

Which IP address is a multicast address?

- A. 172.20.1.0
- B. 127.0.0.1
- C. 192.168.0.119
- D. 239.255.0.1

Answer: D

Explanation:

Multicast is a networking protocol where one host can send a message to a special multicast IP address and one or more network devices can listen for and receive those messages.

Multicast works by taking advantage of the existing IPv4 networking infrastructure, and it does so in something of a weird fashion. As you read, keep in mind that things are a little confusing because multicast was "shoe-horned" in to an existing technology. For the rest of this article, let's use the multicast IP address of 239.255.0.1. We'll not worry about port numbers yet, but make a mental note that they are used in multicast. We'll discuss that later.

NEW QUESTION: 4

An administrator binds VLAN interface 10 to VPN instance "TenantA" on an HP Comware switch by using this configuration:

interfaceVlan-interface 10

ip address 10.1.10.1 255.255.255.0

How does the administrator's action affect the interface IP address?

- A. The IP address remains 10.1 10.1/24. but now this subnet can also be assigned to an interface in another VPN instance.
- B. The interface loses the IP address, and the administrator must configure the IP address on this interface again.
- C. The interface loses the IP address and the administrator must map the interface to 10.1 10.1/24 from the VPN instance context
- D. The IP address remains 10.1.10.1/24 but is extended with the Route Distinguisher (RD) and can now be assigned to an interface in another VPN instance.
