NEW QUESTION: 1

Which of the following is a managed service for monitoring AWS resources?
A. Amazon CloudWatch
B. AWS CloudFormation
C. AWS IAM
D. AWS Lambda

A. Amazon CloudWatch

B. AWS CloudFormation

C. AWS IAM

D. AWS Lambda

Answer: D

NEW QUESTION: 2

Which Auto Scaling process would be helpful when testing new instances before sending traffic to them, while still keeping them in your Auto Scaling Group?

- A. Suspend the process Health Check
- B. Suspend the process AZ Rebalance
- C. Suspend the process Replace Unhealthy
- D. Suspend the process AddToLoadBalancer

Answer: D

Explanation:

If you suspend AddToLoadBalancer, Auto Scaling launches the instances but does not add them to the load balancer or target group. If you resume the AddToLoadBalancer process, Auto Scaling resumes adding instances to the load balancer or target group when they are launched. However, Auto Scaling does not add the instances that were launched while this process was suspended. You must register those instances manually.

Option A is invalid because this just balances the number of EC2 instances in the group across the Availability Zones in the region

Option B is invalid because this just checks the health of the instances. Auto Scaling marks an instance as unhealthy if Amazon EC2 or Elastic Load Balancing tells Auto Scaling that the instance is unhealthy.

Option C is invalid because this process just terminates instances that are marked as unhealthy and later creates new instances to replace them.

For more information on process suspension, please refer to the below document link: from AWS
