Explanation:
Note:
* You create the control flow in a package by using the control flow designer.
Integration Services includes three types of containers that you can use in a control flow.
Foreach Loop container

For Loop container

Sequence container

* For Loop Container
The For Loop container defines a repeating control flow in a package. The loop implementation is similar to the For looping structure in programming languages. In each repeat of the loop, the For Loop container evaluates an expression and repeats its workflow until the expression evaluates to False.
The For Loop container uses the following elements to define the loop:
An optional initialization expression that assigns values to the loop counters.

An evaluation expression that contains the expression used to test whether the loop should stop or continue.

An optional iteration expression that increments or decrements the loop counter.

NEW QUESTION: 4
Refer to the exhibit.

EIGRP has been configured on all routers in the network. What additional configuration statement should be included on router
R4 to advertise a default route to its neighbors?
A. R4(config)# ip default-network 10.0.0.0
B. R4(config-router)# default-information originate
C. R4(config)# ip route 10.0.0.0 255.0.0.0 10.1.1.1
D. R4(config)# ip route 0.0.0.0 0.0.0.0 10.1.1.1
Answer: A
Explanation:
Unlike the ip default-gateway command, you can use ip default-network when ip routing is enabled on the Cisco router.
When you configure ip default-network the router considers routes to that network for installation as the gateway of last resort on the router. For every network configured with ip default-network, if a router has a route to that network, that route is flagged as a candidate default route. Gateways of last resort selected using the ip default-network command are propagated differently depending on which routing protocol is propagating the default route. For IGRP and EIGRP to propagate the route, the network specified by the ip default-network command must be known to IGRP or EIGRP. This means the network must be an IGRP- or EIGRP-derived network in the routing table, or the static route used to generate the route to the network must be redistributed into IGRP or EIGRP, or advertised into these protocols using the network command. In this case, the 10.0.0.0 network is indeed being advertised via EIGRP.
