NEW QUESTION: 3
Identifying interrelationships and potential overlap between stakeholders is useful to the project manager as he or she works with stakeholders. It should be documented as part of the_____
A. Stakeholder management plan
B. Stakeholder management strategy
C. Stakeholder register
D. Stakeholder engagement assessment matrix
Answer: A
Explanation:
The stakeholder management plan identifies the management strategies required to effectively engage stakeholders. It includes, among other things, the identified interrelationships and potential overlap between stakeholders. This information is invaluable especially if some stakeholders are resistant or negative to the project and also in determining the level of frequency of desired interaction and communications requirements.
