Refer AWS documentation - SAM Gradual Code Deployment

If you use AWS SAM to create your serverless application, it comes built-in with AWS CodeDeploy to help ensure safe Lambda deployments. With just a few lines of configuration, AWS SAM does the following for you:

- * Deploys new versions of your Lambda function, and automatically creates aliases that point to the new version.
- * Gradually shifts customer traffic to the new version until you're satisfied that it's working as expected, or you roll back the update.
- * Defines pre-traffic and post-traffic test functions to verify that the newly deployed code is configured correctly and your application operates as expected.
- * Rolls back the deployment if CloudWatch alarms are triggered.

NEW QUESTION: 2

What are two features introduced in Network I/O Control version 3? (Choose two.)

- Network resource pools
- Bandwidth guarantee to virtual machines
- CoS tagging
- Bandwidth reservation per traffic type

Answer: B,D

Explanation:

Version 3 of the Network I/O Control feature offers improved network resource reservation and allocation across the entire switch.

Models for Bandwidth Resource Reservation

Network I/O Control version 3 supports separate models for resource management of system traffic related to infrastructure services, such as vSphere Fault Tolerance, and of virtual machines.

The two traffic categories have different nature. System traffic is strictly associated with an ESXi host. The network traffic routes change when you migrate a virtual machine across the environment. To provide network resources to a virtual machine regardless of its host, in Network I/O Control you can configure resource allocation for virtual machines that is valid in the scope of the entire distributed switch.

Bandwidth Guarantee to Virtual Machines

Network I/O Control version 3 provisions bandwidth to the network adapters of virtual machines by using constructs of shares, reservation and limit. Based on these constructs, to receive sufficient bandwidth, virtualized workloads can rely on admission control in vSphere Distributed Switch, vSphere DRS and vSphere HA

NEW QUESTION: 3

Scenario: A vSphere Distributed Switch is configured with Network I/O Control. A virtual machine is configured with a network adapter connected to the switch. The virtual machine is running a workload that generates high network traffic. The network I/O Control settings are configured as follows:

- A. Shares: 1000, Reservation: 0, Limit: 0
- B. Shares: 1000, Reservation: 1000, Limit: 0
- C. Shares: 1000, Reservation: 0, Limit: 1000
- D. Shares: 0, Reservation: 1000, Limit: 0

Answer: B, C
